Innovation Masters and Doctoral Scholarships Call for 2014

1. Background

The Innovation Masters and Doctoral funding instruments are part of the Innovation Bursary Scheme (IBS) funded by the Department of Science and Technology (DST). The scheme is managed by the National Research Foundation (NRF) through a contractual agreement with the DST. The IBS aims to broaden the frontiers of knowledge in innovation areas and to build the PhD pipeline for a knowledge-based economy. The DST has made funding available for the IBS in order to provide financial support to qualifying honours, masters and doctoral students registered at public universities in 2014. This document outlines the objectives of the programme, the values of the scholarships and criteria for selection.

2. Objectives

The programme supports South African citizens and permanent residents registered on a full-time basis at public higher education institutions (HEI's).

The objectives of the Innovation programme are:

- To contribute towards the increase in the number and quality of South African postgraduate students within Science, Engineering and Technology (SET) fields of study at masters and doctoral levels in South Africa
- To build a pipeline of the next generation of SET scientists and researchers in South Africa

3. Areas of Support

The Innovation programme supports the students that wish to pursue their studies in the fields listed below:

- Biotechnology,
- Cellular and Molecular Biology,
- Engineering,
- Computer science,
- Physics,
- Astronomy,
- Mathematical Sciences,

- Scholarship-holders must not hold full-time salaried employment during the tenure of the award.
- The Scholarship-holder will be allowed to undertake a maximum of 12 hours of teaching, tutorials, assistance or demonstration duties per week on average during the year of study; they may be remunerated for these duties, provided that they are reimbursed at a rate not exceeding the normal institution tariff for services rendered.

5.2. Equity

In line with the national imperative of equity and redress, the programme prioritises support for appropriately qualified blacks, women and disabled students without sacrificing quality. The programme will strive to meet the set equity targets of 80% blacks, 55% women and 4% people with disabilities.

5.3 Conditions of award for the Innovation Bursary Scheme (IBS)

- The award of an IBS scholarship to a student will be based on past, current and potential academic performance. Selection criteria will include academic merit, promise of research ability, leadership qualities and previous awards, various prizes and honours.
- In addition to the above criteria, the award of the IBS scholarship will be based on the feasibility and merit of the applicant's research project proposal.
- Successful students who are offered the IBS scholarship by the NRF are required to complete and sign the IBS scholarship agreement which will be communicated at the time of the award.
- A list of successful candidates will be published on the NRF website as soon as the internal NRF approval processes for the award are finalised.
