

Past, present, perfect

Vacancy Advertisement

GONDWANA GAME RESERVE, WESTERN CAPE, IS LOOKING TO RECRUIT A PROJECT MANAGER FOR IT'S INVASIVE ALIEN CLEARING PROJECT.

Gondwana Game Reserve situated within the proposed Gouritz Cluster Biosphere Reserve has embarked on an ambitious invasive alien plant control project. The project aims to improve the ecological integrity and contribute to the unique biodiversity of the region, additionally the project intends to optimise the socio-economic benefits as a community-based public works programme.

Key Performance Areas:

- Strategic and operational planning.
- Financial and administrative management.
- Coordination and mentoring of contractors and beneficiaries.
- Mapping of alien vegetation.
- In field monitoring of contracts.
- Ensure and coordinate training, social development and capacity building.
- Manage contract tender processes.
- Quality control and production control of contract and task based operations.
- Ensure compliance to Working for Water standards/norms and Health and Safety requirements.
- Manage the equipment and stores.
- Monitoring and submitting of progress reports.

Key Requirements

- Diploma in Nature Conservation or related field will be beneficial.
- Experience in project management will be beneficial.
- Proficiency in English and Afrikaans.
- Computer literacy (Windows, MS Office, GIS).
- Driving licence with 4x4 driving experience.

Remuneration

- A competitive salary package will be negotiated, based on qualifications and experience.

Any candidate who meets the above criteria is invited to send an updated CV to Joe Erasmus before the end of business on the cut-off date of 30th October 2014 via email: joe@gondwanagr.co.za. Only shortlisted candidates will be contacted. Gondwana serves the right not to fill this position should a suitable candidate not be found.