

Part-Time Lecturer in Animal Physiology (Contract Post)

Department of Biological Sciences
Faculty of Science

We invite applications for a two-year part-time contract position (i.e.4 hours per day) as a Lecturer in Animal Physiology in the Department of Biological Sciences.

The Department of Biological Sciences at the University of Cape Town is well recognised for its high quality teaching and research. We are particularly known for research in the fields of marine biology, conservation, biodiversity, terrestrial ecology and evolution. For more details please visit our website: <http://www.biologicalsciences.uct.ac.za/>

Requirements for the application:

- A PhD in the field of biology/zoology
- A research record in animal physiology/ecophysiology.

It would be advantageous to have experience in undergraduate teaching and fieldwork.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach at undergraduate and honours level within the Department of Biological Sciences, and should pursue his/her own research, publish research findings in peer- reviewed journals, supervise honours level projects, and partake in teaching field camps. The person will be expected to contribute to general departmental administration as required. The position will be for a two-year part-time period. We are seeking to fill this position from 1 July 2015.

The annual remuneration package for this half-time position is R240 000 per annum.

To apply, please e-mail the below documents in a single pdf file to Ms Sarojini Pillay at sarojini.pillay@uct.ac.za:

- UCT Application Form (download at <http://web.uct.ac.za/depts/sapweb/forms/hr201.doc>)
- Covering letter
- A research and teaching statement
- Curriculum Vitae (CV)
- Names of two referees

Please ensure the title and reference number are indicated in the subject line. An application which does not comply with the above requirements will be regarded as incomplete.
